How Did The Fund Perform Last Year?

For the fiscal year ended October 31, 2025, the Fund generated a total return of 8.46%, generally in line with its benchmark, the ICE Diversified US Cash Pay High Yield Financial & REIT Index, which returned 8.79%.

The Fund's performance was driven by a combination of income from coupon payments ("income return") and price gains, driven by declining Treasury yields and a reduction in yield premiums during the period. Declining interest rates, resilient economic growth, strong corporate earnings, and healthy capital markets led to positive performance across much of the US High Yield asset class.

In the financial & REIT sector, positive performance contribution was diversified across numerous bond issuers, with resilient economic conditions supporting subsectors including financial services, REITs, and insurance.
