How Did The Fund Perform Last Year?

For the fiscal year ended October 31, 2025, the Fund generated a total return of 7.26%, generally in line with its benchmark, the ICE Diversified US Cash Pay High Yield Core Industrial Index, which returned 7.55%.

The Fund's performance was driven by income from coupon payments ("income return") during the period, with some contribution from price gains, driven by declining yields. Declining interest rates, resilient economic growth, strong corporate earnings, and healthy capital markets led to positive performance across much of the US High Yield asset class.

In the industrial sector, positive performance contribution was diversified across numerous bond issuers, with robust economic growth supporting a diverse set of sub-sectors, including basic industry, capital goods, and services.
